LOWELL, MASS.

American Woolen Heads Large Taxpayers' List

Academies, Mills, Realtors Get
Large Assessments; Electric Co.
Pays Half Personal Property Total

Real estate and personal property taxes are being promptly paid, in anticipation of Saturday's deadline, according to this week's announcement by Tax Collector James P. Christie. After that date, interest at 4% will be added to the tax, figured from October 1, and a large number of Andover's 2500 real estate taxpayers are paying their taxes now to escape the added burden.

After deducting the payments of this year, the 31 Andover taxpayers assessed more than $1000 dollars this year, totaling nearly $129,000, the average tax bill of the other 2500 taxpayers amounts to $111.18. The total amount to be collected is $406,906.37.

The personal property taxes, also subject to the November 1 deadline, amount to $56,709.60 this year, and 51.5 percent of this—$29,213.94—is paid by the Lawrence Gas and Electric Company. The rest of this group of taxpayers shell out far less, the next heaviest assessment being $7721.25, on the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Realty companies and the local mills, as has been true for many years, dominate the higher reaches of large real estate assessments. The American Woolen Company pays $32,629.36 on its extensive properties, while its affiliate, the Textile Realty Company, of 150 Causeway street, Boston, gives $7215.93. Other sizeable tax accounts are the Andover-Shawsheen Realty Company, $12,531.48; Phillips Academy, $11,225.18; M. T. Stevens and Company, $9365.12, and the Tyer Rubber Company, $8887.78.

Besides these, here are the figures on Andover's real and legal persons who pay over $1000 tax on their real estate holdings:

Abbot Academy	$2706.43
Agnes M. Abbot, in trust, 56 Central street	$1234.68
Andover National Bank	$2702.80
Andover Realty Company, 62 South Main street	$1065.96
Andover Savings Bank	$4459.33
Mabel P. and Foster C. Barnard, trustees	$4436.42
Boston Federal Savings and Loan Association, 33 Congress street, Boston	$1265.85
Boston and Maine Railroad, Lechmere Square, Cambridge	$1365.18
William J. Burns heirs, 14 Wolcott avenue	$1579.78
Lilla A. Burton, Elm street	$1895.15
Abigail F. Curran, in trust, 250 North Main street	$1281.80
Maurice J. Curran, Jr., South Main street	$1083.15
George C. H. Dufton, Dufton road	$1612.40
Roy E. Hardy, 113 Chestnut street	$1181.75
Marjorie S. Hayes, off Phillips street	$1291.23
Lawrence Gas and Electric Company	$1544.98
H. Bradford Lewis, Hidden road,	$1787.85
Merrimac Mutual Fire Insurance Company, 344 North Main street	$1649.38
Edith C. O'Connell, Main street	$1629.08
J. Augustus Remington, North Main street	$2905.60

Samuel Resnik, trustee, Musgrove Building	$2733.98
Alfred L. Ripley, 48 Central street	$1253.53
Shawsheen Dairy, Inc., Tantalion road	$1019.35
Mabel J. Trott, 46 Salem street	$1139.70
Cornelius A. Wood, North Main street	$2771.68

Leaders in personal property assessments, besides the ones already mentioned, are:

American Telephone and Telegraph Company	$856.95
Franklin and Company	$1258.89
Balmoral Spa	$259.32
Trustees of Phillips Academy	$435

Harry Stephenson	$576.81
Sidney P. White	$225.83
Western Union	$221.85
Cornelius A. Wood	$202.42

Practically all these names, of course, are familiar to Andover residents. Most of us wouldn't recognize the Franklin Company, however, which stores wool in the warehouse on Railroad avenue, or the Boston Federal Savings and Loan Association, owners of the Joyce Castle property on Main street.

TOWN GOVERNMENT

Special Elections Held December 16 and 30

Since Andover is still, unfortunately, in the congressional district of the late Hon. Lawrence J. Connery, a special election of a new representative must be held here, according to last Saturday's proclamation by Governor Saltonstall, on December 30. A special primary election will also be held on December 16.

The ironic part of the matter is that Andover, lately allocated to Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers of Lowell, is, to all intents and purposes, now in her district, and most of its government business is transacted through her. Since it is still formally in the late Mr. Connery's district until next September's primary, however, it will take part in the election of his successor.

In accordance with the calendar established by Secretary of State Frederic W. Cook, the local board of registrars will meet on November 26 to certify all local names on nomination papers circulated here, and to register new voters for the primaries. Still another meeting will be held before the December 16 primary for the registration of other qualified voters.

For both elections, only one precinct headquarters will be used for polling, probably that in the Square and Compass Club, the most convenient and accessible. No especially heavy vote is expected in a matter of only temporary interest to Andover citizens.

Educational Life

Adult Education

In progressive cities and towns all over the country, adult education is now an accepted institution. For the past few years, the local school department has been active in offering courses for interested townspeople, and this year's program promises to be equally complete.

First classes in Citizenship and English met, last Monday evening, in the John Dove and Shawsheen schools, and at the Old Boston road center. Opening tonight with registration and first classes are the courses at the North school, and next Monday night, at the Bradlee school, if a sufficient number can be enrolled. Classes are of two hours duration, Monday and Thursday evenings weekly, from 7 until 9.

Upholstery classes are due to begin November 25, and will be given during the daytime. Other courses, the time to be announced later, are: home nursing, first aid, foods and nutrition, clothing, cain seating, mechanical drafting, and art. For new citizens, a discussion group with guest speakers will be offered; for students who received certificates in last year's courses in citizenship, a review of government in preparation for spring citizenship court, to meet once a week.

Information about enrollment in the evening sessions of the Women's Civilian Defense School, now in progress, can be obtained at the Adult Education office in the central school system.

For many years now, there have been several agencies within Andover's town limits endeavoring to meet the needs of its residents. To establish a more unified system, and to coordinate all sources of similar instruction, it has been decided to form a Community Council for Adult Education.

The role of such a council varies with the nature of the town in which it functions. It serves as an instrument for obtaining closer co-operation between the adult education program and other defense efforts, and provides materials and suggestions adaptable to local problems and conditions.

The Andover council's organization meeting will be held in the John Dove School on November 17, directed by Superintendent Kenneth L. Sherman and Director Mary G. Bailey.

Vocational Guidance

Recently formed at the Lawrence Y. M. C. A. was an extensive program of vocational guidance. Andover people active in the Merrimac Valley Guidance Association were made officers of the new group. John Brohead, association president, will supervise the clinic. Edward C. Manning, local vocational guidance director, will give personal interviews to supplement the course work. Recording secretary Clarence Campbell of the MVGA, is also the Y. M. C. A. secretary.

Andover Guild

Next Monday, the Andover Guild officially opens its season with registration and organization of members for the coming year. Miss Margaret Davis, supervisor of the Guild, announces that all next week will be devoted to the registration, younger children from 3 to 5 every afternoon, older ones from 7 to 9 every evening. Regular class and group work will not begin until the following week.

ALL OUT EFFORT

Evening sessions of the local Women's Defense School are expected to start in about two weeks, according to its headmistress, Lieut. Mrs. Charles D. Thompson. The general curriculum will be the same as that in the morning classes, with the students placed in either the Warden, Motor Corps, or Canteen divisions, according to their own preferences.

The definite date for the opening of classes has not, as yet, been set, but, as soon as a sufficient number of women are enrolled, instructors will be assigned and work begun. The sessions will be held two nights a week, Mondays and Thursdays, in the high school building.

Meanwhile, the day sessions are coming to a close. A final convoy drill yesterday wound up the activities of the day school, in which the Motor Corps and Warden divisions took part in field practice, and the Canteen Corps maintained a field kitchen for the participants.

Two first aid courses are scheduled to begin next week, a short one for the Motor Corps and Canteen students, a longer one for those enrolled in the Warden training division. School officials announce that these courses will be open to everyone interested, regardless of his previous connection with the school.

Shawsheen Women's Club To Hear Dr. Osgood

At the regular monthly meeting next Tuesday evening at 8:00, to take the form of an American Faith program, the Shawshen Village Women's Club will hear Dr. Phillips Endecott Osgood, well-known educator, dramatist, and psychologist, as well as rector of Emmanuel Church, Boston, speak on the subject, "Salt of the Earth." Incidental music will be furnished by a trio consisting of Mrs. Reginald Nichols, piano, and Misses Barbara and Carol Nichols, violins.

Hostess chairman for the meeting is Mrs. Harold T. Houston, and her committee includes Mrs. Margaret Costello, Mrs. Frank Dickinson, Mrs. William A. Doyle, Mrs. Weston F. Eastman, Mrs. Ray A. Foss, Mrs. William P. Foster, Mrs. John Franklin, Mrs. Charles Fredrickson, Mrs. Joseph T. Gagne, Mrs. Daniel Galle, Mrs. Joseph M. Hargedon, Mrs. Frederick A. Higgins, Mrs. H. Garrison Holt, and Miss Anne Harnedy.

November Club Visits North Shore Museums

The first fall meeting of the art department of the November Club, a week from tomorrow, will consist in a visit to several Salem points of interest. Leaving Andover at 10:00, the department will visit the Peabody Museum, which is acknowledged to have one of the best collections of Oriental china in the world, and also the Essex Institute, a museum and portrait gallery of the Colonial and Federal periods. Luncheon will be served at the Hawthorne Hotel. All the club members are invited to attend, and those planning to attend, as well as those able to furnish transportation, are asked to contact Mrs. William Emmons, 89 Main street, as early as possible.

The first general club meeting will be held Monday afternoon at the clubhouse, starting at 3:00.

Cubs Will Be Organized Tonight At Free Church

Parents of boys between the ages of 9 and 11 are invited to be present at a meeting in the Free Church this evening, when a new Cub Pack, affiliated with the Boy Scouts of America, will be organized for the parish. The meeting will begin at 7 o'clock.

The principal speaker at the meeting will be Field Scout Executive Grebb of Lawrence, who will explain the workings of the Cub society and the requirements for the organization of a Pack here.

The ANDOVER MOTHER'S CLUB will hold a white elephant sale after their regular monthly meeting, which is to take place next Thursday in Punchard High School, starting at 2 o'clock.

Refreshments will be served at the meeting by a committee consisting of Mrs. Gertrude Dufresne, Mrs. William Coupe, and Mrs. Ada Stewart.

The regular meeting of the KING'S DAUGHTERS of the South Church will be held next Monday evening in the vestry. Supper will be served at 6:30, followed by a devotional meeting led by Miss Fannie Davis. Guest speaker of the evening will be Miss Catherine C. Perry of Boston, who will present a stereopticon on the work of the Seaman's Friend Society, as carried on in its Boston branch.

The weekly discussion group of the Andover League of Women Voters will have an added attraction this week in the person of a guest speaker, Mrs. Arthur Whittemore of Boston, who has been well received at her other lectures before the league. She is state chairman of government and its operation, part of a program of national defense work sponsored by the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs. Her topic will be "Taxation and Defense."

Miss Anna Greeley will be moderator of the meeting, to be held at 2:30 Tuesday in Memorial Hall, and the hostess will be Mrs. Eugene Bernardin.

At the first meeting of the season for the Men's Club last Monday evening, the following officers were elected: Fay Elliott, president; James P. Christie, vice-president; Alfred H. Smith, secretary; H. J. Ellis, treasurer.

The election took place during the regular business meeting, which followed a dinner served at 6:45. The speaker of the evening was Leonard James, teacher of history at Phillips Academy, who gave a talk on "The Interventionist and the Isolationist in the Present World Crisis."

The ANDOVER GARDEN CLUB will hold its regular monthly meeting next Tuesday morning at 10:00 in the Andover Inn. Mrs. Carley Paulsen will speak on the subject of terrariums. The program committee consists of Mrs. James K. Dow, chairman, Mrs. Charles D. McDuffie, and Mrs. William T. Rich, Jr.

LIBRARY NOTES

Main Library

"Forward With Books!" What books have helped you go forward? With this challenging question, the Young People's Library will join schools, bookstores and other libraries, as well as organizations interested in young people, in celebrating the 23rd annual observance of Book Week, and will endeavor to illustrate through exhibits the part which good books have played in the development of alert and intelligent adults. What did Abraham Lincoln read when he was a boy? What books helped him to go forward, or such famous men as Stevenson, Franklin, Longfellow and Hans Christian Andersen? Visitors to the library any time next week, will see what they were.

There will also be an exhibit of books representing titles which were the childhood treasures of Miss Ballard and Miss Robinson, members of the staff of the Young People's Room.

The new books which are to help young people of today go forward will occupy a prominent place in the library. Readers who have not seen the great progress made in the field of illustration for children's books, will find this an excellent opportunity to see the best of the new titles. The library staff will be glad to help visitors with any Christmas book problems they

Chest Drive Well Over Peak

Has Subscribed 113% Of Quota;
Education Team Has Record 140% Return

The bare figures, perhaps, tell the story of the success of this year's Community Chest drive better than any amount of words can. As announced by the Lawrence headquarters last night, the totals show that Andover has oversubscribed 13 percent of the total assigned to it, having reached its quota of $8150 late last Thursday. The total raised to date is $9,190.

Andover's record compares most favorably with the other divisions in the Greater Lawrence drive. It is the only one, so far, to raise the amount of money assigned it, and the record of its Educational Division in raising 140 percent of its quota far surpasses that of any other section of any division.

Returns are still being made to Andover Chairman Kenneth L. Sherman and his division heads, so that final figures are not now available. The job would be well-done, judging from the records of our surrounding communities, if it were ended now, or had ended last Thursday, but the Andover committee is still accepting contributions in an endeavor to set up a mark that will be something for all Greater Lawrence teams to shoot for in the Chest campaigns to come.

Out of the six separate town divisions, four have already collected the total sums allotted to them at the beginning of the campaign, and another is within five percentage points of its goal.

The totals are

Shawsheen division, Mrs. C. H. McDuffie, captain. Assigned, $610; raised, $576; percentage, 95.

Andover Town division, Mrs. Jerome W. Cross, captain. Assigned, $4,335; raised, $4,654; percentages, 107.

Ballardvale, Miss Marjorie Davies, captain. Assigned, $40; raised, $24; percentage, 60.

Industry and Finance, Harry I. Emmons, captain. Assigned, $1,180; raised, $1,205; percentage, 102.

Schools, J. R. Adriance, Phillips Academy, and William McDonald, public schools, captains. Assigned, $1,850; raised, $2,589; percentage, 140.

Government, Thaxter Eaton, captain. Assigned, $135; raised, $141; percentage, 105.

The Greater Lawrence drive ends its two-week campaign Saturday. Chairman A. Graham Baldwin expects that it will go over the top before then. Andover, however, can give itself a pat on the back without waiting for the expiration of that time; after all, it got there first.

Improved All-Stars Edged By Sparrow A. C.

The Lawrence Sparrow A. C. Andover All-Stars game on the Playstead last Sunday was a lot less close than the score would indicate. It ended with the visitors taking the contest, 7-6, but they were outplayed by the local eleven most of the afternoon.

The game was characterized by fast and aggressive playing on both sides. The Andover blocking was a good deal more clean-cut, and its spinners more precise, than in the contests it has won to date over seemingly stronger elevens than the Sparrows.

The first score came towards the middle of the second period, when Sirois, Sparrow halfback, reached up to snare an Andover pass, and, picking up a couple of blockers en route, ran sixty-five yards directly down the sideline for the score. The kick was good.

In the third period, the All-Stars moved the ball down to about the one-foot line, where they were held for downs. Dion's kick from deep in his end zone, however, came out only to the 12-yard line, and it was an easy matter for the All-Stars to set up a score, Parsons taking the ball over through tackle. His attempted kick was wide.

The outstanding feature of the final period was the passing of Norman Ross. With a few more minutes to play, the All-Stars would undoubtedly have scored again, as they were really clicking when the game ended with the ball on the Sparrows' 15-yard line.

Next Sunday is an open date for the Andover eleven, and the following Sunday they meet the 150-pound Redskins from Bradford.

Officials for the game were James Doherty, William Pomeroy, and Joseph Barrett.

Christmas Seals Go On Sale November 24

The Essex County Health Association headquarters will be the scene of intense activity from now until November 24th, when the annual Christmas Seal Sale opens. The allotment of seals, posters, and placards which come every year from headquarters for the sale, are being distributed to towns and cities throughout the county.

The chairman of the Andover committee, Mrs. Lyman Cheever, has announced that the following volunteers will be active members of the committee: Mrs. Edward C. Nichols, Mrs. Howell F. Shepard, Mrs. Nathaniel Stowers, and Mrs. James L. Toohey.

"Response of civic-minded citizens of Andover," says Mrs. Cheever, "to the annual call for volunteer helpers seemingly assures us that our community will go 'all out' for a successful drive."

WHERE TO GO WHAT TO DO

TOMORROW—Hal- lowe'en Dance

Though there are a good many private parties going on around town tomorrow night, the only public celebration of Hallowe'en will be at the Memorial Gymnasium, where the Swingmasters hold forth with their second dance of the season.

Music will be furnished by Dick Henderson's orchestra, featuring Dick himself at the piano, and "Ike" Roberts, formerly with Ray Eldridge's fine band. Dancing will be enjoyed from 8 to 12, and favors and noisemakers will be distributed during the evening. The admission is 50 cents a head, including the 5 cent tax.

TOMORROW—By- ington To Read

Stephen T. Byington of Ballardvale, who was connected for many years as an editor with the large Ginn Publishing Company in Boston, will read selections from his own translation of the Bible tomorrow evening, from 7:30 to 8:30, in the Union Congregational church in the Vale.

Mr. Byington's translation of the Bible, as those present at last week's meeting can testify, shows an unusual linguistic ability and a gift for phrasing.

TOMORROW—Guatemala Color Films At Phillips

Beautiful moving pictures and slides in color, of scenes witnessed by him all over the world, from Alaska to Cape Horn, are in the collection of Dr. Charles H. Tozier, one of the most distinguished amateur photographers in this country. He's been everywhere and photographed as much, and the best of his collection will be run off for those who come to hear him lecture at Phillips Academy tomorrow evening at 8:15.

The most colorful pictures in his collection, and those he will show tomorrow night, were taken in Guatemala, his expedition there having been sponsored by Dartmouth College, the Pan-American Union in Washington, and the Government of Guatemala.

His pictures depict one of the most primitive regions in South America, the Guatemala highlands, where Indian life can be seen as it was before the Spanish Conquest. Descendants of the ancient Mayas are pictured in their home life, at their markets, at religious worship, and at fiesta and ceremonial dances dressed in their tribal costumes.

Dr. Tozier, who has lectured before audiences at Exeter, St. Paul's, most of the New England colleges, and at a great many learned societies and clubs, has due regard for the photographers in his audience, and often stops his commentary to mention the type of camera and length of exposure used in a particular shot.

The public is invited to attend, and there is no admission charge.

SATURDAY—Punchard - Stoneham, At Playstead

An improving Punchard team looks for a close contest Saturday afternoon at the Andover Playstead, when it faces the Stoneham High eleven. The kick-off is scheduled for 2 o'clock.

The Punchard squad, which has compiled a record of a win and a tie against three losses so far this season, fought to a 13-13 tie with Lexington last Saturday, a team which earlier in the season, tied Stoneham, this week's opponent.

SUNDAY—Li- brary Open House

Interesting speakers are promised for the open house at the Memorial Hall Library Sunday, inaugurating its 23d annual Book Week celebration. Donald Bartlett, Professor of Biography at Dartmouth College will speak on "Introduction to Biography," while M. Lawrence Shields, instructor in biology at Phillips Academy, will discuss "Introduction to Science."

The Book Week activities this year are sponsored by the newly-formed Friends of the Memorial Hall Library. They plan a concert Sunday by a string quartet including Preston Kelley, Herbert Kinsolving, Misses Ethel Farrington and Ruth Napier.

"Forward with Books" is the theme of this year's celebration, and in keeping with this, both the children's tax, and single tickets at 75 cents plus tax. The first lecture will be given next Wednesday morning at 9:45, and interested townspeople should call Mrs. Mitchell Johnson, telephone 1108, or Mrs. Arthur W. Cole, telephone 683-M.

WEDNESDAY—Cartoonist Dahl Speaks Before P. T. A.

Most Andover people have been laughing for years at Francis Dahl's daily cartoons in the Boston Herald, which depict, in six or eight boxes, every element of the ludicrous in current news, local, sectional and national. He is able to give a very clever imitation of the crude drawing of a child, and the wild and desperate aspects of most of his characters is pretty funny, even without the keen and biting captions that accompany them.

It's said that Mr. Dahl can talk with as much point and wit as he draws. Andover residents will have a chance to test this next Wednesday, when he gives a chalk talk, open to the public, in the Memorial auditorium. There will be a large blackboard on the stage, and, as he discusses current events, he will chalk the outlines of some of his inimitable sketches upon it.

The public is invited to attend, of course, and, though no admission will be charged, a small silver collection will be taken.

WEDNESDAY— Mrs. Taylor Speaks

Sponsored by the November Club, a series of lectures by Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will again be presented this year in the club rooms on Locke street. Mrs. Taylor, whose talks have proved so popular in town during the past several years, will deliver lectures on "History in the Making," for which season tickets are priced at $4.00 plus

NOVEMBER 6—Punchard Seniors Hold Dance

Wise men have said that when the cat's away, the mice will play, and, while their teachers go to bed early in preparation for their annual visiting day Friday, the Punchard senior class will take advantage of the holiday by holding a triangular dance Thursday evening at the Memorial Auditorium.

All students of Punchard, Methuen, and Johnson High Schools are invited to dance to the music of Harold Phinney's recordings from 8 till 11:30, and the admission is 30 cents, including tax.

Harry Duke is chairman of the committee in charge, and he is assisted by David Markert and Robert McDonald, president and vice-president of the senior class, respectively, by James Collins, Donald Haigh, George Kelly and Clifford Stowers, and by Misses Rebecca Stevens, Olga LaRosa, Ann Scanlon and Helen Delaney.

NOVEMBER 6-8—Watercolor Exhibit By Abbot Cheever

Abbot Cheever, well-known local artist, will hold an exhibit of his watercolor paintings next Thursday through Saturday at the November Club rooms on Locke street. The 25 paintings, executed during the past year, depict scenes in and around North Andover and Boxford, and may be seen by the public from 10 to 12, and 1 to 4 daily during the exhibition.

Following the exhibition, the pictures will be placed on sale with a maximum of $18 being charged for each. A percentage of the money realized will go to the November Club's Art Scholarship Fund.

NOVEMBER 6— Chicken Supper

Make your reservations early for the chicken pie supper to be held in the vestry of the West Church on Thursday evening, November 6, at 5:30 and 6:30. Mrs. Arthur Lewis has charge of the tickets and Mrs. William A. Trow is general chairman.

Let's Not Wait

Are you one of the self-complacent individuals who, with something approaching a smirk, say to themselves: "Isn't all this air-raid precaution stuff silly?"

Well, maybe it is. But a few years from now we'd much rather be sitting here in Andover saying to ourselves: "All those air-raid precautionary measures were unnecessary," than to be sitting in the hereafter saying: "Why didn't we take those precautions?"

Europe today is full of conquered nations who proved ready subjects for the Nazi plan of conquest because their peoples were too sure of themselves. It's a little too late to think of taking precautions after your country has been over-run, or after a bomb has been dropped in your midst. A lot of Europeans listened to a lot of Wheelers, Tafts and Lindberghs, and now look what's happened to them. Here in America we give the right of freedom of speech but we don't have to listen and we'll be silly if we do.

Andover really hasn't lived up to its part in the precautionary measures. We have citizens here who have devoted a great deal of time to this work, but the town, as a whole, has not pitched in the way it should.

One of the troubles has been a lack of funds to properly set up an air raid center. This would seem to be a sufficient emergency to warrant the finance committee's transfer of a sum of money from the reserve fund. It is nothing we could have foreseen at the last annual meeting; it is something that we should not wait to foresee at the next annual town meeting. Every minute counts in these days and to wait too long would be to run the risk of not being ready in time. The rest of the world ran that risk unsuccessfully; let's take no chances.

Why Just Torpedoes?

The state of mind of the people of these United States can be pretty clearly shown by an analysis of the applause at President Roosevelt's address of Monday night. From the international point of view, and probably from the historical point of view, the President's repeating of the old naval phrase "Damn the torpedoes; full speed ahead!" was the most important part of the address, inasmuch as it, to a great extent, signaled the entry of the United States into active war with the Nazi forces.

There was considerable applause for this assertion, but the part of the speech that gained the most applause was the emphatic statement that every mine must be kept in operation. The people of the United States are just about fed up with stoppages of work in national defense projects by men who rely for their livelihood on exploitation of labor, of capital, and now of the national safety. John L. Lewis is, in this nation, a thoroughly discredited individual, and yet, he feels that he can, with impunity, stop work in one of our key industries. He must, however, be well thought of by Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini.

We're all tired and disgusted, very much disgusted, with the innumerable strikes in airplane plants, ship building yards, and the many other industries affecting our national defense. We have heard our national leaders tell what a truly serious situation confronts the United States in this international crisis; we have seen billions appropriated for tanks, guns, ships, planes, etc.; we have watched with increasing trepidation the over-running of Europe by a nation which we smugly had considered economically ruined, but which was able, by marshalling all its resources, to build the mightiest military machine in history. We have complacently told ourselves that with our immense natural resources nobody could beat us, and yet we have failed to develop those resources to their fullest extent. It's going to take more than patting ourselves on the back, it's going to take more than appropriating billions, it's going to take more than speeches and exhortations; it's going to take real live patriotism with a united will to make ourselves strong. That's going to mean the making of a decision to stop mollycoddling of unpatriotic union dictators and the refusal to allow any stoppage of work whatsoever.

"Damn the union leaders; full speed ahead."

TOWN GOVERNMENT

No Records Broken

Though the unusually large number of eight marriage intentions were filed during the past week with Town Clerk George H. Winslow, he anticipates no great increase this year over last year's totals.

In Methuen, 56 more intentions have been filed than on the same date last year, but in Andover only three more, the figures being 131 and 128.

The new requirement of certificates of health, which must now be presented with their intentions by the prospective pairs, has had little effect on the numbers received, Mr. Winslow stated, most of the registrants considering the regulation a reasonable precaution.

This week's marriage intentions are:

John C. Barker, 98 Perry street, Lowell, and Dorothy A. Roberge, 24 Haverhill street.

Ettore Stromer, 17 Wolcott avenue, and Grace Cavallaro, 132 Jackson street, Lawrence.

Gardner A. Townsend, Woburn street, and Grace L. Hoban, 148 Willow street, Lawrence.

Francis T. Connolly, 24 Cuba street, and Wanda G. Holozubiec, 144 Bailey street, Lawrence.

William Campbell, 27 Stevens street, and Jeannette St. Jean, 212 North Main street.

Archibald L. Davidson, Jr., 33 Essex street, and Cora E. Libby, York Village, Maine.

Francis P. Lowry, South Main street, and Bertha Lovell, 43 Highland road.

A. Raymond Duckworth, 9 Ohio avenue, Lawrence, and Mildred E. Dennison, 150 High street.

Taxpayers' Assn. Elects Brimer and McCarthy

At a meeting held in the Town House last Monday evening, the board of directors of the Andover Taxpayers' Association re-elected their president and vice-president, Wallace Brimer and Joseph McCarthy, for another year.

The association plans to get an early start this year on its analysis of the various town budgets. Edmond Hammond and Walter Tomlinson were recently appointed by the board of directors to conduct a study of the budget for the school department, and other committees are expected to be announced shortly.

Punchard Alumni Plan Methuen Game Rally

If the Punchard students can take advantage of a coming holiday to run a dance, so can its alumni, as will be proved on the evening of November 10, when they hold a joint rally and swing-session in the Memorial Auditorium.

The affair will be in the nature of a get-together between the supporters of the rival high schools, Punchard and Methuen, whose football teams are to meet the next morning. A parade, led by the Punchard Girls' Band, and including a line of automobiles, will form in the parking lot near the auditorium at 7:30. The participants will snake-dance their way from the lot to Bartlett street, then to Park street, Main street and Punchard avenue, and back to the auditorium.

The rally is to be held on the auditorium steps, and will be led by the Girls' Band and the Punchard cheer-leaders. Afterwards, the meeting will adjourn to dance in the gymnasium, entering through the main doors only, to Donald Lundgren's recordings.

Coming up on the evening of November 21 is the alumni association's second annual semi-formal dance to be held at the Andover Country Club beginning at 8 o'clock. Music will be furnished by a well-known orchestra. The Alumni executive board hopes that the older graduates will make it a point to attend this dance, so that it will be as successful as the one run last year.

V. F. W. Will Hold Essay Contest

Tuesday, November 11, starting at 8 o'clock, Andover Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars will present an essay contest for people of high school age, in the Memorial Auditorium. Contestants will speak on the subjects: America at War; Great American Heroes; America, What Does it Mean to Me; and Freedom, What Does it Mean. Attractive cash prizes are offered for the best entries.

Featured musical attraction during the program is the Punchard Girls' Band, which will play several selections.

The organization points out that such a contest, by a group of young Americans, speaking on patriotic topics, in an environment that encourages the better things of life, is a most fitting way to commemorate a day that brought new hope to the boys of Uncle Sam's army in the World War, and ended the "blood, sweat and tears" of the millions actively engaged in its bloody business.

WHY DO THEY CALL IT THAT

Practically everyone knows that our high school was originally called the Punchard Free School, named for a man named Punchard. But what was his first name, and what else did he do?

The answer to the first question is, Benjamin Hanover Punchard. He was an industrious sort of industrialist, a son-in-law of Abraham Marland, and a partner with him in the Marland Mill.

Andover children will undoubtedly be happy to know that he left school at the age of ten, and prospered in spite of it. His first employment was as a copyist and clerk in a West India store, whatever that was, in Boston. By hard work and intelligence, he soon won the confidence of his employers, and was taken into partnership at the tender age of 20.

Eight years later, considerably shattered in health by his efforts, he retired to Andover, already the possessor of a large fortune. He couldn't stay away from work, however, and was soon engrossed in a few new ventures; 1828 found him a partner in the Andover Savings Bank, and 1829 saw him running a store with one John Derby. And in 1834, he became a partner in Marland's newly-incorporated worsted mill.

For the rest of his life, he was associated, in one capacity or another, with the mill. However, he was still pretty sickly, and traveled much in the South and in England in a vain attempt to regain his health. Something he saw in his travels—perhaps the great public schools and universities of England—impelled him to start a school of his own in Andover, and when he died, directed, in his will, that $70,000 of his large fortune be used for the incorporation of a free school for the boys and girls of Andover.

Classes were held in the original brick school building from 1856 until its destruction by fire in 1868. Another school was immediately erected, at the expense of the town, and since then the name has been the Punchard High School.

Many of the provisions of Benjamin Punchard's will, however, are still in effect. The rectors of the West, Christ, and South churches are still ex officio trustees, the other five being elected by the townspeople. The school is still free and non-sectarian, the Bible is said daily and the Lord's Prayer recited by the pupils and teachers.

THIS WEEK'S COVER

If the cover caption sounds like a well-known advertisement, it's just a coincidence. The picture represents the new wing on Draper Hall at Abbot Academy, recently completed. The addition includes a library dedicated to Miss Emily Means, former Abbot principal, and a reading room in memory of Miss Rebekah Chickering, for forty years a teacher of English there. The dining-room, which connects the old with the new parts of the building, is a memorial to Miss Bertha Bailey, another former principal. None of them could have a better remembrance.

WEDDINGS

Humphries-Currier

A pretty wedding took place at the bride's home last Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock when Miss Dorothy E. Currier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Dana Currier of 189 High street, North Andover, became the bride of Norman Humphries, formerly of West Andover, and son of Mr. and Mrs. William Humphries of 167 Lowell street. Rev. Clinton Carvell, pastor of the Trinitarian Congregational Church in North Andover, performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of plumbury and a corsage of briarcliff roses. Miss Helen Currier was her only attendant, and she wore a brown and beige costume with a corsage of talisman roses.

Thomas Houghton of Methuen was best man.

Following a reception after the ceremony, the couple left on a wedding trip to New York, Baltimore, and Washington. On their return they will reside at 82 Pleasant street, North Andover.

Scollo-Giaino

Miss Mary Giaino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Natale Giaino of 15 Enmore street, last Sunday became the bride of Pasquale Scollo of Main street, North Reading, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Scollo. The ceremony was performed in the Holy Rosary Church, Lawrence, by Rev. Eugene M. Zega, O.S.A.

Cikacz-Murach

In a pretty ceremony in Holy Trinity church, Lawrence, last Saturday, Miss Mary Louise Murach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Murach of Lovejoy road, became the bride of Fred J. Cikacz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cikacz of Tyler road, Pelham, N. H. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Peter Hajna, pastor of the church.

Abbot Academy Notes

Miss Marguerite Hearsy left yesterday for a two-day trip to New York, where she is attending the annual meeting of the Educational Records Bureau. Miss Jane Sullivan is also attending this meeting.

Voluntary courses which might be designated as junior defense study have begun under the auspices of a Defense Committee, headed by Miss McKee. Members of the committee are Miss Carpenter, Miss Coolidge, Miss Smith and Mrs. Poland. Miss McKee, Miss Carpenter and Miss Tingley attended the Massachusetts Women's Civilian Defense School in Boston this summer, and Miss Carpenter took, in addition, the First Aid Course at the Metropolitan Red Cross.

The groups which have been organized are studying home nursing, motor mechanics, first aid, canteen, and "The World Today," a discussion group on current events.

The Abbot societies are hoping to demonstrate through their programs this year ways in which their particular interests (art, music, drama, literature, journalism and science) may be used in behalf of defense. The Seniors are again dressing dolls for the children's Christmas party at the Hindman School in Kentucky, and knitting for the Red Cross and the British War Relief has been resumed.

On Saturday over a hundred students and members of the faculty will attend the matinee performance of "Macbeth" in Boston. In the evening the school will be entertained in mysterious ways at a Halloween party. Rumor has it that both day students and faculty are looking very wise and knowing these days—but apparently only "The Shadow" knows!

The Reverend M. Russell Boynton, D.D., of the First Church in Newton, will speak at the Sunday vesper service (7:30 P.M.).

POLICE BLOTTER

All regular, reserve, and special officers will be on duty Halloween night, traditional time of juvenile lawlessness, according to Chief George Dane's announcement Wednesday. Special attention will be paid to any reported incidents of destruction of property, and all sections of town will be constantly patrolled. Halloween celebration, which seems to have gotten away to an early start in Lawrence and the surrounding communities, has caused no trouble in Andover so far, he stated.

Meanwhile, Robert W. Davow, of Richwood, N. Y., and George R. Schultz, of Bradley Beach, N. J., were found guilty on counts of failing to stop for an officer in Lawrence District Court, and fined $25. Speeding charges for both were filed. Davow was recently picked up by Officer William Stewart.

Paul R. Howard, 91 Albion street, Medford, was convicted and fined $10 in Lawrence District Court, on a charge of operating without a license. Officer Arthur Jowett made the arrest.

Subtract five rabbits from the assets of Mrs. Leontine Marique of Beacon street. Stray dogs are believed to have done the damage.

Five out-of-town men were arraigned in the Andover Trial Court before Judge Walter C. Tomlinson last Thursday morning. Speeding fines of $10 each were imposed on Vincent L. McDonald, North Wilmington; Carroll M. Colby, Reading; Lewis O. Roessler, Woburn; Donald E. Barron, Salem Depot, N. H.; Leslie L. Blyth, Chelsea. Stanley W. Carpenter, 12 18th street, Lowell, was fined $5 for illegal use of a spotlight. The arrests were made by Sergeant Nicoll and Officers Stevens, White, Davis, and McBride.

The home of Mrs. Roy Hood, at 41 Red Spring road, was broken into last Saturday between 11 and 3:30. Clothing was pulled from drawers in a dresser in one room, and strewn around the floor. $6.00 in pennies, done up in bank wrappers, were taken.

Legion Plans Poppy Sale Armistice Celebration

Carry an extra quarter uptown with you a week from Saturday, as the Junior Bugle and Drum Corps will be soliciting on that date for Andover Post 8, American Legion's annual Poppy Day.

Every year at this time, the Legion puts on sale poppies made by disabled war veterans, all money received from the sale going to the Legion's extensive program of organized charity, child welfare receiving a large part of the proceeds.

The sale is in charge of Past Commander Thomas Dea as chairman. Assisting him will be Past Commanders George Napier, Joseph Remmes, Harold Peters, and H. Garrison Holt, and Legionnaires Edgar Northam, Clairmont Gray, George Smith and Paul Cheney.

Armistice Day plans were virtually completed at a recent meeting of the organization. A parade, in which the other town service societies have been invited to take part, will form in the Square at 10:30 that morning. Marching to the Legion lot in the Spring Grove cemetery, the group will take part in a memorial service there, plans for which are to be announced later. The local British War Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and all the associated auxiliaries will probably be in the line of march.

On the afternoon of Armistice Day, the local soccer team will meet one composed of British sailors from H. M. S. Newcastle, and in the evening, there will be the annual Legion banquet.

The committee in charge will include Edgar Northam as chairman, assisted by Legionnaires Napier, Remmes, Dea, Stafford Lindsay and Frank Markey.

North Billerica Man Held After Lowell St. Accident

The case of John M. Meany, Beacon street, Billerica, has been continued, pending further investigation, in the Lawrence District court, following his arrest on three counts, last Friday, after an accident on the Lowell road.

Meany was picked up by Officer William Stewart and Reserve Officer Joseph O'Brien, and charged with being drunk, operating under the influence of liquor, and operating to endanger.

The accident occurred Friday evening around 6:45, when Meany, driving toward Lowell well on the left hand side of the road, struck a furniture truck en route to Andover, and knocked it on its side. The police officers, arriving on the scene, found the contents of the truck strewn around the road, part of it damaged by contact with a nearby telegraph pole.

Evidently, the driver of the truck, Robert Descheneaux of 10 Fir street, Manchester, N. H., tried to pull over towards the right when he saw Meany's car approaching so far over in the left lane. He was unable to avoid the car, however, and what might have been a serious accident was only narrowly averted. Both drivers escaped unhurt.

Two Girls Hurt In Vale Accident

As simple a thing as the wind catching a hat caused a serious automobile accident last Saturday on Andover street, Ballardvale. Miss Geraldine C. Dunn of 96 Hubbard street, New Haven, Conn., and Miss Patricia Fitzgerald, 17 Bedford avenue, Hamden, Conn., were driving towards Andover when, as they rounded a curve, the wind blew the former's hat off. As she tried to grab it, she lost control of the car she was operating, and crashed into a telegraph pole.

Both girls, who are visiting with their aunt, Mrs. Margaret Cronin of Center street, were removed to the Lawrence General Hospital. Miss Dunn was discharged after receiving treatment for minor injuries, but her companion was held for observation and possible x-ray examination. She suffered cuts over her right eye and temple, and possible concussion.

Creative Living

Sermonette by Rev. David Segerstrom

I would like to call the attention of the readers of the Townsman to two little books by Dr. Joseph Fort Newton, a well-known Episcopalian clergyman. Containing a reading for each day in the year, these books have been called "Books of Faith, Philosophy and Fun." If you suffer from spiritual depression, are tired and hopeless and have lost the joy of living, I am sure that Dr. Newton's "Living Every Day" and "The Stuff of Life" would serve to dispel the gloom within and refresh and cheer your spirit. Let me give an example of his daily reading.

Your Life

What are you doing with your life, good reader. After all, life is all we have, and if we do not make the best of it, there is nothing else for us. How can we make the best of life?

There are really only four things we can do with life. We can run away from it, or try to. Many people are like the Artful Dodger in the Dickens story—they are experts in evading life. They shirk duties and go round difficulties, and of course they find more difficulty on the other side. There is no getting away from life, unless we fling it away, and do we get away from it even then?

Since this is so, others just run along with life, follow the crowd, doing what everybody is doing. If they think at all, they think as they live, instead of living as they think.

It is amazing how many people live just to squeeze through and get by, nothing more. They are drifters, not drivers; taking the line of least resistance, they go with the gang, and obey the herd-mind.

Others dare to take hold of life with some principle, some purpose, and run it. Such a handling of life asks for courage, discipline, devotion, the wit to plan, the will to climb, the nerve to do.

How often I used to hear Felix Adler say, "I thank God for the idea that used me." A great idea seized his life, gave it unity, direction, drive, and made it a truly great and fruitful life.

No man becomes masterful until he has been mastered by something, or someone, greater than himself. The best thing to do with life is not to run away from it, or to run along with it, even run it ourselves; but to put it into the hands of the Lord of Life to run and use.

"For me life is Christ," said Paul. That is what he did with his life, that is what it meant to him. He got himself off his hands, and no greater life has been lived among us—save One. A frail little man, handicapped by illness, he became a mighty way-shower of men.

As a man thinks, believes and loves in his heart, so his life will be weary and heavy-laden, or winged and singing.

Mrs. Mary Ventura, of the Elite Beauty Salon, has returned from the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists convention recently held in New York City.

Guy Howe and Frank Rockwell have been elected vice-president and secretary of the Junior class at Suffield Academy, which they are attending.

A group of teachers of the Christ Church Sunday School will attend the fall meeting of the Merrimac Branch of the Church School Union next Wednesday, at St. John's Church, Haverhill.

Junior High Notes

By Miriam Dearborn

Last Wednesday during the assembly, Miss Gates, the sewing teacher, awarded prizes to the various girls who took part in the eighth grade darning contest. Jane Sparks of Division 9 designed the ribbon awards. The prizes were awarded by the Student Government Association.

Mary Baker of Division 8, won first prize. Peggy Renny, also of Division 8, was second, and Carolyn Bowen of Division 10, third. Those receiving honorable mention were as follows: Marilyn Duguid, Betty Jane Gordon, Jane Sparks, Ruth Glennie, Virginia Hardy, Nancy Barnard, Rita Goulet, Edith Flather, Barbara Barnard, Evelyn Stein, Louis Doyle, Jean Court, Mavis Twomey, Claire Darby, Patricia Progan, Frances Little, and Mary Lynch.

Wednesday's assembly was put on by the pupils of Room 7, with Jay O'Connor in charge. To open the program, Albert Johnson played two piano accordion selections, "Tangle of the Roses," and "There'll Be Some Changes Made." After this, pupils were called from the audience to come up onto the stage. The group included Virginia Marler, Joan Fleming, Horace Killam, Barbara Hill, Randall Emmons, John Thomson, Lois Strong, Janet Knowles, Donald Blackmer, and Jean Mulvey.

These pupils drew questions, and if they could not answer them, they had to pay forfeits, some of which were imitating a back-seat driver, repeating tongue twisters and acting like a baby.

Then the lights were dimmed and slides containing the words of songs were shown on the screen. John Thomson and Barbara Hill played the piano and everyone joined in singing "I Dream of Jeanie with the Light Brown Hair," "It's So Peaceful in the Country," and "Till Reveille."

Then another group was called to the stage. This group included Barbara Buckley, George Collins, Dorothy Eccles, Norman Bendroth, and Miriam Dearborn. Questions were also asked of them and they had to pay forfeits if they did not answer correctly.

The enjoyable program continued with two more numbers by Albert Johnson, "Rattling Keys" and "In the Mood." As a closing number the entire school sang "America."

This is the final standing of the boys' teams in tag football.

	Won	Lost
Gold	5	1

Coach, Mr. Hart.

Many people from the Junior High School attended the first concert of a series of six to be given by the Boston Symphony Orchestra for young people of high school and junior high school age. Wheeler Beckett conducted the orchestra of seventy members. The boys and girls left the school Wednesday at 2 o'clock sharp. The program was from 3:30 to 5.

The pupils of the school having concert tickets are as follows: Barbara Knowles, Dorothy Eccles, Peggy Howe, Sally McDuffie, Constance Burns, Shirley Sawyer, Jean Harnden, Jane Sparks, Jammie Boyce, Shirley Stevens, Lila Phillips, Jane Duguid, Anne Burns, Alice Surette, Mable Broughton, Cynthia Pash.

Faculty members attending are: Miss Banning, Miss Olliff, Miss Sweeney, Miss Gate, and Miss Haskins.

Punchard Notes

By Sally O'Riordan

Wednesday afternoon, a group of thirty students and faculty members of the Andover public schools attended the first of a series of six youth concerts for high school and Junior High School students, presented in Symphony Hall, Boston. Miss Miriam Sweeney, supervisor of music in the Andover schools, and a sponsor of the series, was in charge of the local group from Andover. The following students attended the concert:

Dorothy Barlow, Virginia Stevens, Arnold Schofield, Constance O'Connor, Shirley Rhodes, Gertrude Wolff, Angeline Thiras, Barbara Hart, Helen Hannon, Muriel Pullan, Constance Swenson, Anne Reading, Rebecca Stevens, Ruth Nicoll, Shirley Sawyer, Cynthia Pash, Marilyn Duguid, Connie Burns, Dorothy Eccles, Mary Jane Hodges, Barbara Knowles, Shirley Stevens, Peggy Howe, James Boyce, Anne Burns, Sally McDuffie, Marjorie Irwin, Bessie Dantos, Dorothy Foster, Constance McCollum, Mable Broughton, Lila Phillips, Jane Sparks, Jean Duguid, Alice Surette, Jack Sherman.

Overture, Marriage of Figaro
Mozart
Symphony No. 5, in C Minor
Beethoven
Rumanian Rhapsody No. 1
Enesco
Peter and the Wolf
Prokofieff

On Saturday, October 25th, the Punchard team tied Lexington, with a score of 13-13. During the halves, the band's outstanding feature was the intricate forming of a maze.

After the game, the second of the series of dances given by Punchard Band, was held in the gym. Another one will come after the Stoneham-Punchard game on November 1st. The admission will be twenty-five cents; the time, 4:00-6:00 o'clock; the music will be supplied by Harold Phinney.

DEATHS

One of the most impressive funerals seen in Andover since World War days took place Friday morning at St. Augustines church, when last honors were paid Frank S. McDonald, late assistant postmaster.

Present were delegations from the school department, the Ancient Order of Hibernians, the Catholic Daughters of America, the Knights of Columbus, which he had served as grand knight, district deputy, and national delegate, and more than 15 priests from the surrounding parishes.

Only a skeleton force was left on duty at the postoffice, the majority of its employees forming a guard of honor as the body left the church.

A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Mr. McDonald's nephew, Rev. Joseph A. Robinson, of St. Francis' church, Charlestown, assisted by Rev. Henry B. Smith, O.S.A., and Rev. Matthew F. McDonald, O.S.A., curates of St. Augustine's church.

The bearers were Bernard L. McDonald, Jr., and John McDonald, nephews of the deceased, and Charles Gregory, Stephan Boland, Augustine Sullivan and William Harnedy.

Interment exercises were conducted by Father Robinson at the family lot in St. Augustine's cemetery.

Every town has its quota of prominent men who are equally well-known in two widely-separated communities. Such was Charles R.

Scott, formerly a foreman of grounds at Phillips Academy, who died recently at his home in Amesbury.

Before coming to Andover, Mr. Scott has been a member and chairman of the Amesbury board of selectmen for a period of three years, and chief of police for four more. In 1927, he moved to Andover, where he lived until his retirement in 1940. Besides his duties at the Academy, he acted as president of the Andover Service Club, and was a member of the playground committee. At one time, he was director of the Andover Square and Compass Club, and he was also prominent in Masonic circles.

On his retirement, he returned to Amesbury, where he had since resided on the Haverhill road.

Funeral services took place Thursday afternoon from the late home, and interment was in North Prospect cemetery, Amesbury.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon for Mrs. Emma S. Downs, one of Andover's best-known older residents, who died Thursday afternoon at her home. Rev. Leonard Sweet, pastor of the North Reading Baptist Church, officiated at the funeral exercises at the late home, and interment services at Spring Grove Cemetery.

Born in New Limington, Me., 84 years ago, Mrs. Downs had lived in Andover for many years. Surviving relatives include a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Eva Downs of Wollaston, and several nieces and nephews.

Thirty years an employee of the Bartlett Hayes estate off Phillips street, and known equally well by hill and downtown residents was Michael Gardner, 60, who died at a Boston hospital Thursday night.

Born in County Clare, Ireland, he had made his home here for the past 30 years, and was a member of the A. O. H. and the Holy Name society of St. Augustine's parish.

Surviving are his wife, Margaret, a half-brother, Martin O'Neill of Boston, and a half-sister, Mrs. Robert Winters of Lawrence.

The funeral took place Monday morning from the home of John J. McDuffie, 75 Davis street, North Andover, with a solemn high mass of requiem at St. Augustine's church. Rev. Thomas B. Austin, O.S.A., was celebrant, with Rev. Matthew McDonald, O.S.A., as deacon, and Rev. Joseph T. Conroy, O.S.A., as sub-deacon.

Following a week's illness, George O'Brien, 35, died Saturday morning at the Clover Hill Hospital, Lawrence. A life-long resident of Andover, he had received his education at St. Augustine's parochial school and at Cannon's Commercial school in Lawrence. He was employed by the Boston and Maine railroad, and was connected with the Holy Name society of St. Augustine's parish.

Surviving him are his wife, Kathleen W. (Regan) O'Brien; a son, George, Jr., a daughter, Kathleen, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius O'Brien.

The funeral was held from the home of his parents, at 20 Harding street, with a solemn high mass Monday morning at St. Augustine's church. The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Henry B. Smith, O.S.A., assisted by Rev. Matthew F. McDonald, O.S.A., as deacon, and Rev. Joseph T. Conroy, O.S.A., as sub-deacon.

Interment was in the family lot in St. Augustine's cemetery, where committal prayers were said by Rev. Thomas B. Austin, O.S.A., and Father Smith.

HELP WANTED

WANTED—Woman for general housework in family of adults from 8 to 2:30 daily except Sunday. No washing. $8 per week. Reply, Box 9, Andover.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACTS OF CONGRESS AUGUST 24, 1912, AND MARCH 3, 1933, of The Andover Townsman, published weekly—Thursdays, at Andover, for October 1, 1941.

State of Massachusetts
County of Essex, ss.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Elmer J. Grover, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the publisher of the Andover Townsman and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1933, embodied in section 537, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to wit:

1. That the name and address of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business manager is Elmer J. Grover, Andover, Massachusetts.

2. That the owner is Elmer J. Grover, Andover, Massachusetts.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are none.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

ELMER J. GROVER
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 20th day of October 1941.

BALLARDVALE

P. T. A. Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Ballardvale P. T. A. will be held next Thursday at 8 o'clock. Miss Bower, the new dental hygienist for the public schools, will be the speaker.

Reports of the convention will be given by the delegates to it. Refreshments will be served by the mothers of the first grade pupils. These P. T. A. meetings are open to all persons interested in the welfare of children.

Supper a Success

The harvest supper of the Methodist church was well attended, and much credit is due to the ladies who prepared and served it.

Service Society Meeting

The meeting of the Women's Society for Christian service was held Wednesday evening. After a short business meeting the group journeyed to Andover for an evening of bowling.

C. E. Attend Meeting

The members of the Senior Christian Endeavor Society of the Union Congregational church attended a meeting on Sunday evening, in the First Congregational church in Woburn. E. Stanley Jones was the guest speaker.

Attend Re-Dedication

Many members of the Methodist church travelled to North Andover last Sunday to join in the re-dedication service held in the Methodist church there, completely renovated during the past summer. Rev. Carl Wilson participated in the exercises. Rev. Fred Fox is the minister and is well known in the Vale.

New Groups To Meet

The newly organized groups of young people who have called themselves the "Knit-Wits" will meet next Thursday at the home of Miss Lois Henderson of Chester street.

Notes

Little David Sholtz of Andover street is recuperating at the Clover Hill hospital. David received a fractured skull and severe injuries in a fall at his home Sunday.

Mrs. Ralph Greenwood of Tewksbury street is visiting her mother who is ill in Dover, N. H.

Little Ann Morton of Marland road received a bad cut on her head when she fell at Bradlee school.

Mrs. J. W. Stark of Center street is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Paul Abbot of Detroit.

The Boy Scout meeting was conducted Wednesday evening by Arnold Schofield, assistant scout-master.

Mrs. Augustus Fuller of Tewksbury street is ill at Miss O'Donnell's sanatorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Eschholz and son of High street have moved to their new home on Lowell street.

Ballardvale's football team is improving week by week under the direction of James Butler, and scored a 7-6 victory over a team from Everett last Sunday on the playstead.

Samuel Wright of Hall avenue has been called out of town by the death of his father.

Miss Frances McAvoy of Oak street is recuperating at Miss O'Donnell's sanatorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald of New Haven are visiting Miss Margaret Cronin of Center street.
